PROSECUTION NEAR CLOSE

Bailey To Take Stand in Own Defense, His Attorney Announces.

By The Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 21—An electrifying defiance of gangdom by the Charles F Urschel clan greeted George (Machine Gun) Kelly's death threats today as the government moved to close its case against a dozen others on trial for conspiring in the oil millionaire's kidnaping.

"We are in this fight to the finish," said a spokesman for the family as a letter from the fugitive Kelly, who has been called "a human rat" by Assistant Attorney General Joseph B Keenan, was made public by Keenan and the Urschels

Kelly's letter of hate, bearing his fingerprints and apparently written by his wife, Kathryn Cleo Kelly, also wanted for the kidnaping, warned that the Urschel family will be "brutally murdered" and informed Urschel that Harvey Bailey and Albert Bates, outlaws on trial, will be "out for the ceremonies—your slaughter."

At another point it said: "I am getting my plans laid to destroy your so-called mansion and you and your family immediately after this trial."

Family Sends Reply

To this the family replied "We have thrown our lot with the law and the government. The Urschel family does not want one moment's delay in giving gangland its answer."

Meanwhile District Attorney Herbert K Hyde drove toward the announced goal of completion of his case by nightfall

Already Urschel has told the accusing story of his 9-day imprisonment on a Texas farm, with Kelly and Bates branded as the machine gunners who kidnaped and held

LAW LICENSING MILK DEALERS IS IN EFFECT

Marion Dairies Attempting To Agree on Code of Competition.

STANDARD PRICE IS GOAL

To Submit Uniform Schedule to State Board; Licenses Received.

Possible readjustment of the price of milk in Marion was foreseen this morning when it was learned that Marion dairymen for three weeks have been attempting to agree on a standard price and code of fair competition to submit to Ohio's new milk control commission.

This became known today as the state law requiring all milk dealers to obtain licenses went into effect. Every person engaged in the retail sale or resale of milk is required by the law to obtain licenses at once. Dr. N Sifritt, city health commissioner said. Dr Sifritt received a supply of blanks yesterday to be used by dealers in applying to the state commission for licenses.

Stores Included.

Dealers required to obtain licenses, Dr Sifritt explained, include dairies, country dairies engaged in any retail trade and retail stores selling milk for consumption off the premises.

The license fees range from $1 for retail stores to $50 for retail dairies. In connection with the licensing, each dealer is required by the new law to obtain a certificate showing they have complied with sanitary regulations. These will be issued by Dr. J. T Gruber, city milk and food inspector, and Dr N Sifritt, county health commissioner, after they have inspected the premises of each dealer.

Marion dairy heads today said they hope to submit a schedule of uniform prices and a code of fair practice to the commission in the near future. Costs of production and handling are being taken into consideration in the establishing of prices for each section of the state, they said. Dairymen would not predict what changes might be made in present milk prices here.

The schedule of uniform prices for Marion county is expected to specify the price dairies shall pay to farmers who supply the milk sold here.

NAB GANG OF SEVEN AS KIDNAP SUSPECTS

May Be Linked With O'Connell Case and Possibly Lindbergh Tragedy.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 21—A pair of rusty handcuffs became the link with which police strove today to fasten the guilt of the O'Connell kidnaping on a gang of seven seized yesterday in one of the most striking coups in recent years

With the arrest of five men and two women, the police said they had solved or were nearing solution of five murders, four bank robberies and the kidnaping of John J. O'Connell, Jr., young member of a family powerful in Albany politics.

O'Connell came here last night and looked at the five men. Two of them, Anthony Reino and Leonard Scarnici, seemed to him to resemble the men who abducted him.

He was certain that handcuffs found in an apartment where part of the gang was seized were the ones that had been used to bind him

Although police are questioning the gang about the O'Connell kidnaping, they decided to concentrate for the time being on the bank robberies. Three of these occurred in New York City, and one in Rensselaer, where a detective was killed.

Reino and Scarnici were charged with robbery and homicide; Philip Zeigler, Charles Herzog and Fred Pienti were accused of robbery. Eleanor Scarnici, wife of Scarnici, and Emma Russo, described as the wife of Reino, were charged with acting in concert.

Wholesale raids, beautifully timed, on hideaways in Manhattan, the Bronx, Brooklyn and Mount Kisco netted the gang without a struggle. In a Mount Kisco house the raiders found the women, one of them a spectacular blond.

SEEK BETTER BUS SERVICE

Delegation Goes Before State Utilities Commission at Columbus.

MORE RUNS ARE WANTED

Communities Request Enlarged Schedule Through Prospect and Radnor.

Fourteen men including city officials and citizens of Marion, Bucyrus, Waldo, Delaware, Prospect and Radnor appeared before the state utilities commission in Columbus yesterday afternoon in an effort to obtain enlarged schedules of buses operating between Columbus and Marion by way of Prospect and Radnor

Mayor W C Phillians, City Clerk S H Keller and C A Kuck represented Marion and testified before the commission as to the needs of extended schedules necessary to enable residents of Prospect and Radnor to get to Marion where many of them have employment and also on shopping and business visits

Want More Runs

Complaints registered by representatives of the other communities were directed against the infrequent service now being afforded between Radnor, Prospect, Delaware and Marion. Each community's representative cited a period of the day when bus service is needed and is not provided under the present schedules

The two companies operating the present bus service, the Arnold lines, operating the Marion-Lima Transit Co and the Buckeye Stages North, Inc., were represented at the hearing and expressed their desire to furnish adequate service. They had previously been asked to extend present schedules Mayor Phillians said, and were called before the commission when they neglected to do so

Bucyrus Represented

Others attending the hearing included Mr Kerrigan, president of the Bucyrus Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Frank Gast, Merle Gast and Mr Bensley a council member, all of Prospect, William Perry of near Radnor, William Mickel of Waldo and Mr. Main of Delaware.

DELEGATION SEEKS FUNDS FOR DREDGING

Hardin County Group Here in Interest of Proposed Scioto Project.

A delegation of Hardin county residents was in Marion conferring with the county commissioners and other citizens in regard to obtaining federal funds for dredging the Scioto river.

The delegation consisted of C. I. Wharton of Kenton, president of the National Farm council and John Green and Charles Shaw, both of Kenton. Green is a dredge man.

The river is listed as a navigable stream, Wharton said, and therefore is eligible as part of the public works program to be financed by the federal government.

A temporary committee has been named to push the proposal, consisting of Dean Ridgway, U. C. Clement and E. E. Blazer, all of LaRue, A E. Haberman and J. B Porter of Green Camp, and G. F. Gast and Rev. L. Dickers of Prospect. A committee for Hardin county is to be named tomorrow by members of the Hardin county Workers' league, Wharton said. Plans are being considered; he said, for sending a delegation to Washington, D. C., in the interest of the project.

CONTRACTOR IN JAIL 5 HOURS

Llewellyn L. Aller Charged With Contempt of Court; Aid Held.

SHERIFF FILES CHARGES

Fye Says LaRue Man Illegally Removed Race Horses from County.

Llewellyn L. Aller of LaRue, contractor and race horse owner, and his trainer John Harriman, spent five hours in the Marion county jail last night after according to charges brought by Sheriff C. C Fye, they had illegally removed from this county two horses and equipment which had been attached to satisfy debt claims.

Sheriff Fye in contempt proceedings filed with Judge L. LeRoy Allen of Union county, sitting in common pleas court here, charged that Aller and Harriman removed the horses from the Marion county fairgrounds last Saturday after the horses and other equipment had been attached. Court records show that Sheriff Fye previously had served Aller with notice of the attachment proceedings brought by the Credit Loan & Discount Co of Marion seeking $840 allegedly due it and the Colbert Limerock Asphalt Co of Columbus, seeking $425.19

Hearing Date Set

Both Aller and his trainer were released on their own recognizance when they appeared before Judge Allen this morning to answer to contempt charges. Aller, according to court attaches, said he thought arrangements had been made to satisfy the debt claims before he took the horses from the Marion county fairgrounds. Oct. 20 was fixed by Judge Allen as the date for both men to appear and show why they should not be cited for contempt of court

Aller, his trainer and the horses were seized by deputies of Sheriff C. C. Fye yesterday afternoon at Bellefontaine where the horses, Ned Moore and Lou Chan had been entered in the Logan county fair races. Previously they had checked other county fairs in this

AUTO STRUCK IN BUCYRUS BY PENNSY FLYER

COMPANION ILLINOIS MAN

Party of Eight Enroute from East To World's Fair at Chicago.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS Sept 21 Two men, one of them in the United States on a visit from Germany, were killed instantly when their car was struck today at 5 a m by a Pennsylvania fast passenger train at the East Mansfield street crossing here

They were Jacob Rohning, 70, who arrived in New York last Friday from Germany, and Paul Hoffman 50, of Fairburg Ill The two were in the last of three automobiles carrying a party of eight men bound for Chicago and the World's fair

Three of the other six came to the United States with Mr Rohning They are Otto Kilby of Oehringen Wurtemberg Germany Mr Rohning's home city and Jacob Kuenzi and Elmer Oberholt, both of Berne, Switzerland The others are Peter Schaffer, Karl Baer and Martin Steidinger, all of Fairburg

On Way to Fair

The four Fairburg men went east early this week to meet the Rohning party, and the eight were enroute for a holiday at the World's fair in Chicago

The two front cars passed safely over the crossing but the third, driven by Mr. Hoffman, was struck by the westbound train. The occupants of the other cars missed the Hoffman car in Upper Sandusky and turned back. They arrived here about 7 a m, saw the demolished car and heard the story of the accident. They identified the bodies at a funeral home and made arrangements to send them to Fairberg some time today. Both men suffered fractured skulls and died instantly.

Both men have families, their friends said.

Crossing in Controversy

The accident occurred at a crossing over which city council and the railroad company have been in controversy for some time. Because of the many accidents, practically all of them serious, which have occurred at the East Mansfield street crossing, the Bucyrus city council last spring asked the railroad company to provide 24 hour automatic gate protection. The crossing is guarded 16 hours daily. The railroad company is said to favor flasher lights.

A.F.L. ASSAILED BY INDUSTRIAL LEADER

Asserts Federation Tactics Act as Hindrance To NRA Success.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 -The American Federation of Labor today was charged by an industrial leader with efforts to secure control of labor which "already" were having the effect of destroying the NRA programs.

Robert L. Lund, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, made the assertion in reply to a statement by William Green, federation president, assailing some employers for forming company unions.

This employer-labor interchange accentuated anew the differences which have prevailed between capital and organized workers under the NRA. It coincided with a further demand from the boot and shoe industry for a merit clause, permitting employers to handle labor on an efficiency rather than union affiliation basis.

Hugh S. Johnson, busy studying retail price control proposals, was silent on these latest labor developments, but President Roosevelt has rejected definitely any code interpretation of the recovery law's collective bargaining provision.

Lund's statement said labor conditions in plants objected to by Green "are the best in the country." He added:

"None of the labor difficulties which are so seriously obstructing the recovery program have arisen from such organizations. On the other hand, the efforts of the American Federation of Labor and the other organizations which cooperate with it, to secure control of labor, have proven the most serious obstacle to the attainment of the objectives of the recovery act."

Johnson's decision on the price-control sections of the retail trades and drug codes was not expected for several days. Meanwhile, his attitude remained [illegible] in the past, the recovery chieftain has stated his reluctance to approve anything approaching price fixing unless production is controlled.

U.S. May Recognize Russia as Huge Trade Deals Loom

Roosevelt Reported To Favor Opening of Diplomatic Relations With Soviet.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 20—Indications that the United States would recognize Soviet Russia before the year's end went hand in hand today with talk of vast business deals in the offing.

Sources in New York considered trustworthy represented President Roosevelt as having decided to extend the hand of recognition to Russia, ignored by America since the Communists took command.

At Washington the President designated Henry Morgenthau Jr., governor of the farm credit administration, to direct and coordinate negotiaitons for disposal of American goods to Russia.

A large part of the farm administration's effort to raise commodity prices may depend, observers believed, on success in carrying the Russo-American deals through. The R. F. C. has been dickering with Amtorg, Russia's trade agency, about the sale of 500,000 bales of cotton and other products.

If an agreeable market can be obtained Russia is regarded as a probable market for 1,500,000 more bales of cotton, and a large quantity of other goods.

The Soviet union, however, has taken the position that heavy trade with America must depend on the establishment of normal relations—diplomatic and business.

A consultant on foreign affairs represented President Roosevelt as being desirous of disposing of the question of recognition with dispatch. The question of suitable credits—Amtorg's notes are not eligible for discount in this country now—and the problem of American claims against Russia also are involved. The unpaid American claims, totalling about $656,000,000, hitherto have been a hindrance to recognition.

County Wheat Reduction List Over Half-Way Mark

Seen As Indication Marion Area Will Be Among Ohio Leaders in Crop Control Plan.

With more than 50 per cent of the estimated number of wheat growers in Marion county already signed up under the government's wheat reduction program, R. H. Gilbert, conducting the program in this county, today indicated that this county will be in the forefront in Ohio in adopting the plan.

With a deadline set for Sept. 25, when all first application blanks must be filed, Gilbert said two extra clerks have been hired at the county wheat office in the Marion National bank building.

Will Be Open Nights.

To accommodate late-comers the office [illegible] Gilbert said the office [illegible] kept open each night [illegible] and Monday night until [illegible] the office opens at 8 a. m. [illegible] the newly hired assistants in the office are Miss Irene [illegible] of Prospect street and [illegible] Lester of two miles east of Prospect, both of whom started work today.

All farmers who have not been able to complete their first application blanks at the community meetings are asked by Gilbert to come to the county wheat office, where aid will be given. Although the first blanks must be turned in by Monday, Gilbert said the other detailed blanks can be given more time.

75 at Prospect Meeting

At a meeting of farmers in Prospect township last night, Gilbert said 75 farmers attended with a large number of new applications received.

Gilbert said that in the 1930 census, Marion county was listed as having 901 wheat growers. So far in the program more than 400 farmers have submitted applications to adopt the reduction plan, he said.

District Group Outlines Health Seal Sale Plans

Will Open Thanksgiving Day; Five Counties Represented at Meeting.

Plans for enlisting public support in Marion and four nearby counties for the twenty-seventh annual Christmas Health seal sale starting Nov. 30, Thanksgiving day, were mapped out yesterday in an all-day meeting in Hotel Marion of heads of voluntary health associations in those counties with officers of the Ohio Public Health association.

The state group officers, Dr. Robert G. Paterson, executive secretary, and Arthur H. Gleiman, field secretary, both of Columbus, conferred with the volunteer workers on problems they meet in their communities.

Sales Advice Given

Workers in Marion county were advised in how to use the latest and best methods of selling health seals, sponsored by many personal organizations, locally and school children.

Dr. F. L. Brady, president of the Marion County Anti-Tuberculosis league, signed a contract with the state officers, giving the county group the franchise for selling seals in this county. The goal for Marion county is $1,305.80, out of a total estimated sale in the state of $500,000.

Other counties represented at the meeting were Hardin, Union, Logan and Delaware. A morning session was followed by luncheon and further discussion in the afternoon. Additional guests in the afternoon included presidents of Marion Parent-Teacher associations and their health chairmen.

Nurse Gives Report

Miss Anna Denney, Marion county tuberculosis nurse and acting county health nurse, gave a report of her August work at the meeting.

Important dates in the health seal drive, on which dates special efforts will be made to enlist support, are Thanksgiving day, the opening date; Dec. 3, designated as Tuberculosis Sunday; Dec. 8, school health day, and Christmas day, the closing date of the annual campaign.

Funds from the health seal sale are used in the fight against tuberculosis. This fight, Dr. Paterson said, is more than ever on the hands of voluntary associations since public health groups have had to reduce their budgets.

Hemorrhoid Sufferers

End Your Pile Misery Quick No Cutting—No Salves

Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

That is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give permanent relief, why cutting does not remove the cause.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause—and not one minute before. External treatments can't do this—an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts.

HEM-ROID tablets have such a remarkable record of success in this city that Henney & Cooper and all good druggists urge every sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantee money-back if it does not end their Piles, no matter how stubborn the case.—Adv.

The county schools have always closed for the meeting but no action on closing has been taken yet, according to Supt. D. T. Mills.

During the period covered in the report covered by Recorder Naher, 7,182 acres of farm land were sold for $256,865.75, an average of $43 an acre. These figures officials pointed out, do not represent the current value of real estate because many of the sales were forced. In the preceding year, 6,376 acres were sold for $256,565.75.

Deeds effecting the transfer of 11,938 acres were sold for $1 and other valuable considerations, making it impossible to determine the price involved in these transactions.

Two hundred forty-five city lots were sold for $631,948.46, according to Mr. Naher's report.

Oil Leases

Leases involving 2,764 acres and 16 city lots were filed during the year ended June 30, the report shows. The number of acres leased during the year shows an increase in contrast to the 171 acres leased in the preceding year. Most of the land represented in the leases in March, Naher's report, were taken by a company drilling for oil, Mr. Naher explained. The total amount of money involved in the leases listed by Mr. Naher is $47,740 as contrasted with $102,412 involved in those for the preceding 12 months.

CHARLES ROSS TAGGART

CHARLES R. TAGGART WILL GIVE SKETCHES

Second Fall Festival Program To Be Held at Pavilion Oct. 6.

A novel and entertaining series of pantomimic sketches for violin and piano, pianologues and dialect readings will make up the program to be given by Mr. Taggart in the second of the series of fall festival programs Friday night, Oct. 6 at the Chautauqua pavilion. The fall festival which consists of a series of four programs, is being sponsored by the Woman's Home Missionary society of Epworth M. E. church. Tickets for the course are on sale by the fall festival committee and members of the society.

Mr. Taggart, a real "down East Yankee," is popularly known as the "Man from Vermont." His clever and quaint stories of the "old town folks" of New England among whom he was born and still lives, are entertaining spots in the program.

In his humorous sketches he dons an old hat and spectacles, takes his fiddle and chats confidentially about his various adventures in city and country. Throughout the humor of the entertainment there is found much quiet philosophy and wholesome thought.

MARION JEWS HEAR SERMON

Congregation of Israel Observes New Year With Services Today.

Today marked the year 5694 in the Jewish calendar, and in celebration of the advent of a new year, the Marion Congregation of Israel gathered at 10 a. m. in the rooms at the Marion National Bank building to hear a sermon on "The Call of the Soul" written by Rabbi Abram Hirschberg of the North side Temple in Chicago.

Rabbi Hirschberg's sermon was a plea to parents to save their children, "to put them on the right road, to give them the necessary equipment for their travels and their journeys on the road of life not merely for the struggle for existence and the achievement of a career, but also for the making of a character and a life, to teach and instruct and guide them toward the right goal, that they might learn before it is too late, before they have squandered all their treasures, that this world is not merely a playground nor life a perpetual holiday, but a worship and a laboratory for the greatest of all experiments, the growth and development of a clean heart and a healthy soul.

Success Not Sufficient

The writer acknowledged that the parents today want their children to get the best of life and of its richest gifts and greatest blessing but, he went on, "I am not sure that you have made as great an effort to put God in their hearts, the hatred of evil and the love of good as you have to feed and clothe their bodies, to instruct their mind and develop their talents. I am not sure that you have impressed them sufficiently with the fact that there is something far more important in life than the mere winning of a living or the carving out of a successful career to the satisfaction of the animal appetites; that home is not merely a place in which to eat and sleep, that parents are not merely the old man and the old woman, that the synagogue ought not to be made to compete with the movie theater or the dance hall, for if you had, I feel that the attitude of youth would be far different from what it is; that they would be less self-sufficient and assertive, more modest and reverent, with a deep and abiding regard for the responsibilities of life.

Find Trial Perspective

If we let ourselves rise on the wings of the spirit—high above the trivial things of life—we will then look down and get a true perspective, we will see the true value of the material things in relation to the spiritual. Then there would be no doubt about the stability of our homes and our churches, our philanthropies and our social agencies. These would function as we would have them function, as we brought to them a willing spirit of devotion and sacrifice. These are the things worth while, my friends; these are the treasures to which this day would call us to dedicate ourselves. A willing spirit of devotion and sacrifice. These are the age-old challenges of Israel. These are still today the call of the soul."

The sermon was read by George G. Kleinmayer, a member of the congregation. Prayers for the New Year were offered. Last night the congregation met and heard read a sermon by Rabbi Louis Witt of St. Louis, Mo., on "The Fear of Life."

FIVE GERMANS FACE DEATH FOR TREASON

By The Associated Press.

LEIPSZIG, Germany, Sept. 21—Incendiarism in the German reichstag became a secondary issue and high treason the primary point today as the supreme court trial of five men charged with setting the fire last February got under way.

The court moved the phrase, "attempt forcibly to overthrow the constitution," in the foreground of the indictments and put the charges of incendiarism second.

This indicated that the whole realm of communist activity in Germany will be investigated.

The defendants were brought into court accompanied by two policemen. They were taken to the court building under heavy police guard.

Decapitation has been recommended as the penalty upon conviction. The defendants are Marinus Van Der Lubbe, 24-year-old brick mason and alleged Dutch communist; Ernst Torgler, 42, former communist party whip, and three Bulgarian political refugees, Georgi Dimitroff, Blagoi Popoff and Wassil Teneff.

Among the spectators were Frau Torgler and Van Der Lubbe's two step-brothers.

600 TO RESUME WORK AT TIFFIN

TIFFIN, O., Sept. 21—The United States Glass company announced 600 employes would be called back to work Monday following a shutdown to make adjustments under its recovery pledge. A 10 per cent wage increase, retroactive to Sept. 1 was given employes of the Webster Manufacturing company.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your headaches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

JAMES A. CAMPBELL, STEEL PIONEER, DIES

Leader in Famous Ohio Court Battle Succumbs at Age of 79.

By The Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 21—James A. Campbell, 79, chairman of the board of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company and a leader in the steel industry since the proposed consolidation of the company with the Republic Iron & Steel company, died last night at the home of a heart attack.

JAMES A. CAMPBELL

He was in the forefront of the bitterly fought court battle which the American Steel & Wire company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, waged against the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company when the latter refused to enter the proposed merger. The court battle was settled out of court.

The merger was effected when Cyrus S. Eaton of Cleveland, whose financial empire since has crumbled and other stockholders spent nearly a million dollars in the legal battle against it. Eaton, then the largest single stockholder in the $300,000,000 Sheet & Tube Co., claimed he had not been consulted concerning the merger which was favored by officials of both companies.

Although he had been in failing health since his retirement from active business in February, 1932, Campbell's death came unexpectedly at his residence near here, not far from the Ohltown home where he was born Sept. 11, 1854.

A farmer's son who started his industrial career as a coal company clerk, he was an expert in the steel tube trade.

Yesterday afternoon, only 10 days after celebrating his seventy-ninth birthday, Campbell had gone for an automobile ride. After he had dined last night his nurse helped him back to his accustomed chair and started to leave the room when she heard a gasp and turned to find him dying.

THREATS OF DEATH DEFIED BY FAMILY

him last July, and the millionaire's associate, E. E. Kirkpatrick of Tulsa, only yesterday told of paying the $200,000 ransom to Kelly last July near a South Side Kansas City hotel.

Bailey, accused originator of the kidnap plot, will take the stand in his own defense, his attorney, James H. Mathers, announced.

Reads Son's Statement.

The first direct admission that Kelly and Albert Bates had brought the kidnaped Urschel to the R. G. Shannon farm in Texas came in the federal court trial today when District Attorney Herbert K. Hyde read to the jury a statement to that effect signed by Shannon's son, Armon.

A stir was created at the opening of the trial today as Fred Coleman, son of T. M. Coleman, on whose Stratford, Okla., farm the government contends the plot was hatched, tried ineffectually to make a speech.

Coleman, about 35 years old, was hustled downstairs quickly to be questioned by officers.

He walked into the room as court opened, pulling his 72-year-old father in behind him.

"Judge, may I speak for about five minutes?" he asked raising a hand as in school.

"I object to permitting this man to say anything before this jury," quickly said Herbert K. Hyde, district attorney.

Ordered from Room

"What do you want to talk about?" began District Judge Vaught. He changed his mind, however, and before Coleman could speak further ordered officers to take him out.

"It's the most important thing I could say in this world," Coleman declared as he was being taken from the room.

He had been called as a government witness but had not been placed on the stand.

W. C. Geets, United States marshal, talked to Coleman and later told newsmen he believed a threatening message had been sent him.

It was the Coleman farm that Columbus grandaughter, Kathryn Cleo Kelly, and her husband, Machine Gun George Kelly, and Albert Bates and others are alleged by the government to have used as a clearing house for underworld information and as a rendezvous to plot the kidnap slayings of July 22.

The aged farmer was said by the government to have been duped by his kin.

He didn't know what was going on, Hyde said. The elder Coleman, eyesight and hearing are faulty.

Bailey Has Loyal Backer in Mother

By The Associated Press

COLDEN CITY, MO., Sept. 21—Blind faith upholds the widowed mother of Harvey Bailey during trial for kidnaping.

She was not following the case, said the mother, Mrs. Amanda E. Bailey, 80, at her farm home northwest of this village.

"He never planned the Urschel kidnaping. He couldn't have done the things they charge him with. A better boy never was born. He never abused his parents. He comes from the finest families of West Virginia."

Short of build and her eyes grave behind steel-rimmed spectacles, she sat in white sun-bonnet and flowered print dress in the living room of her grey cottage.

"None of my boys served in the World war," the mother said, "Harvey never learned machine gunning as a soldier."

Harvey Bailey left home at the age of 19 to work in Omaha and Sioux City packing plants. He has returned infrequently.

Arrests Ordered in O'Connell Case

By The Associated Press

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 21—Police today were asked to arrest John Oley and two other unnamed men in connection with the kidnaping of John J. O'Connell Jr. last July. Warrants were issued charging them with kidnaping. Oley is a friend of Manney Strewl, held here on a kidnaping charge.

Oley, who had been under surveillance for several weeks, has disappeared, according to District Attorney John T. Delaney. It was said in official circles that it was believed Oley received the ransom money, $40,000—from Strewl in New York.

Mr. Delaney also has sent bench warrants to New York, charging Leonard Scarnici and Anthony Reino with participation in the O'Connell kidnaping.

district where Aller might have entered his horses in the races.

The deputies placed Aller and his trainer in jail about 5 p. m. yesterday, officials said. Five hours later, through the efforts of an attorney, Judge Allen of Union county, who has been acting common pleas judge in the absence of Judge George B. Scofield approved a $200 bond for their release for appearance in court this morning and telephoned to Sheriff Fye to free them, court attaches said.

An effort was made, following the arraignment of Aller and his trainer this morning, to obtain release of the horses, which Aller had planned to enter in other races, but the required $2,000 bond could not be arranged.

IOWA FARMERS SEEK TO UNSEAT WALLACE

By The Associated Press

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 21 — A threat of a farm strike, coupled with a demand for the "immediate resignation" of Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, was heard as members of the Iowa Farmers union met in annual convention.

The threat was voiced by the organization's state president, Glenn R. Miller, who told the convention in his address that unless currency inflation and other methods of farm relief are forthcoming soon, there would be a farm strike that would "overshadow anything ever seen in this country."

Petitions demanding Secretary Wallace's resignation were circulated and Miller, both in his annual report and address as president assailed the secretary, as well as the state and federal administrations and the methods of crop and livestock reduction now being used under the agricultural adjustment act.

CONFESSES HE CAUSED BLAST

Mineral City Chemist Says He Planned To End Life, Then Lost Nerve.

ANSWERS WIFE'S PLEA

Tells Complete Story of Wrecking of Plant and His Disappearance.

By The Associated Press

MINERAL CITY, O., Sept. 21—Harvey E. Hicks, 54-year-old Mineral City chemist, has confessed he touched off the $250,000 explosion which wrecked the warehouse of the Federal Clay Products Co. here Sept. 6.

He made a statement to Sheriff Abe Laird and Probate Judge J. H. Lamneck of Tuscarawas county, when they questioned him at Massillon state hospital where he had been committed for observation.

"I wanted to end it all," he told authorities, "and then lost my nerve and ran before my fuse reached the explosives."

Responds to Wife's Plea

Confronted with a letter written by his wife, Mrs. Maude Hicks, pleading with him to tell everything for the sake of their 14-year-old daughter Harriett, Hicks broke down. He said he had been drinking heavily for two weeks before the explosion and had had an argument with his wife the day before the explosion when she scolded him for drinking.

"The morning of the explosion," Hicks told the officials, "I went to the office (the Federal Products Co. office in which he was employed) several doors down the street from my home and got a 5- or 6-foot fuse. I went back to the warehouse and attached the fuse to the explosives and lighted it."

Six kegs of blasting powder and 40 pounds of dynamite, used by the company in its mining operations, were stored in the warehouse.

Changes Mind

"While the fuse was burning," Hicks continued, "I lost my nerve and decided I didn't want to die. I tried to put out the fuse but couldn't. Then I ran out, and when the explosion let loose I was about at the company's brick plant (located several hundred yards from the warehouse.)

Hicks had about $3 in his pockets when he fled. He hid at the brick plant from Wednesday, the day of the explosion, until the following Friday, sleeping in an unused boiler. On Friday he walked to Dover, 10 miles away, and ate in a restaurant.

Each night, he revealed, he would return to the brickyard to sleep in the boiler.

This was while crews of Mineral City men were searching the ruins of the blasted warehouse for his body in the belief he had perished.

Hicks returned home at daybreak last Friday and told an incoherent story of having been kidnaped. Questioning at New Philadelphia and the Massillon hospital finally resulted in his confession.

By The Associated Press

RAVENNA, O., Sept. 21—Three men today invaded the home of Mrs. Jennie Matjavic, 40, taped shut the mouths of the woman and her four children and tortured the mother with burning cigaret stubs in an effort to force her to tell where her money was hidden.

Mrs. Matjavic refused to disclose the hiding place and the robbers finally went upstairs where they found about $170 in two trunks and a dresser. Police said the woman told them most of the money was in gold.

behalf of the public schools and Sinoika, the parochials.

Senator Walter Ruff, Republican of Stark county, charged there was "a woeful lack of leadership" in both senate and house and by Governor White.

One of the amendments adopted removed the proposed power for the county budget commissions over school board expenditures and another eliminated the right of the state department of education to limit aid to high schools in state aid districts with 90 or more pupils.

After striking out the emergency clause because of the lack of sufficient votes to approve this feature, the house voted approval of the Annat bill increasing the tax relief available to owners of duplexes and apartments under the indigent tenant rent law, based on the number of apartments in the building.

Introduction of written confessions and testimony as to verbal statements made by officers, consumed the greater part of yesterday's session of the trial before Circuit Judge D. H. Mudge.

Just before court adjourned for the day, the text of a note demanding $16,000 received by Luer, 77-year-old Alton banker and meat packer following his release by kidnapers, was introduced.

Accidents, he asserted, do not "happen" in most cases, but are "caused." Removal of the causes, he explained, is the objective of the countywide safety campaign planned for next week.

Safety drives are held annually in a majority of Ohio cities. It is believed that this city is the only one in the state never to have a safety drive, Mr. Smith said.

A Bit Poetic

(Will Rogers Special)

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Sept. 21—The state or act to inflate that is the Democratic question. Whether it is better in the long run to suffer the stinks that will be of a uniform policy or take up inflation against the wishes of economists and, in fact, all of them. To explain it to me you'd have to inflate personally. An Oath of Hate.

The oriental is a slowly moving individual. Time means little to people who trace their origin back to antiquity. They have learned to wait.

Thus millions throughout China, observing the second anniversary of the Japanese occupation of Mukden, first step in the establishment of the Manchukuo government, do not turn to arms as any of the bustling younger nations might have done. Instead they repeat throughout the nation this oath:

"I swear to avenge this humiliation."

They do not attempt to predict when vengeance will come. Maybe in this generation, maybe in this century- it doesn't matter.

The Chinese have overcome invaders in the past, not by fighting but by waiting. Tribes which overran parts of the nation were absorbed with the passage of time and their traits are apparent to this day in the Chinese people

Japan's invasion of China was most successful from the viewpoint of immediate accomplishments. China's poorly disciplined soldiers gave way before the finely perfected military machine from the island empire The flag of the rising sun floats over great territories that recently were a part of China and Japanese vantage points are being developed and strengthened.

The Chinese wait. They know that 700 years ago Jenghiz Khan led his Mongol hordes in a conquering wave over China and that the Mongol nation is only a name today.

The uncounted millions in China provide, in their teeming numbers, an obstacle to conquest which has proved a greater defense than armies or the great wall When these hordes join in an oath of hate without days and without an end they present the terrifying strength of a people sometimes conquered but in the end always unconquerable.

Home Talent First.

Many communities have turned with increasing frequency to the talent available in their own towns for public entertainments during the last two or three years and this use of local resources is likely to be permanent and more generally adopted.

The day of the traveling attraction, whether in stage shows or in musical entertainments, has passed and each community is more than ever dependent on itself.

Some will regret, with good reason, the fact that the great actors and the famous musicians of the past are now available only at rare intervals, if at all, but the situation has more features which are encouraging.

Each city has hundreds or thousands of persons who still like their entertainment in person and who found that which comes from the air or the motion picture screen not completely satisfying. Herein lies the opportunity for developing the talent native to every community.

It has been discovered, for example, that practically every town has at least one band able to furnish good music. The lot of these musicians, from the viewpoint of practical gains from their talent, has not been a happy one. The bandsman who earns enough from the year's engagement to pay his union dues considers himself quite well off.

This is a situation which should be amended. A good band, whether amateur or professional, is an asset to a city and as such it is worthy of practical support. A series of band concerts with a reasonable scale of prices and with attendance sufficient to make them profitable is not only a source of pleasure to the people but also the best means of maintaining a musical organization.

For those of other tastes choral societies and soloists such as nearly every community can produce are generally available. There is a marked cultural advantage in the presentation of such attractions and no difficult financial problems are involved.

This is the time of year to plan for winter attractions and the community whose program includes a series of entertainments built around the talent available in its own locality is taking a definite forward step in perpetuating those cultural advantages without which any city is poor.

Any group with enough public spirit to undertake the initiative will find its mu- [illegible] ing to do their full share. There [illegible] which have [illegible] simply [illegible]

It was the first actual step in the President's program Plans were being worked out for the greater achievements and here was a means of offering some concrete evidence that people were being put to work

Communities which looked on with considerable skepticism as these youthful army settled in their midst were won over by their good conduct, their willingness to work and the accomplishments which have been attained

The opportunity has been offered to enlist for another period of six months and a majority of the young men, being informed by letters from home that jobs in private employment are still at a premium, have signified their intention of staying throughout the winter. Comfortable quarters are being built to replace the summer tents The reenlistment period is set for the latter part of September for a strategic purpose Those who remain will be outfitted with warm winter clothing and the government does not wish to issue new outfits to recruits who are going back home The only way to get a new suit is to sign up.

From all the signs, the administration has won a victory of considerable importance in this first skirmish of its war against depression

Jazz And The Tempest.

From the dim, distant McGuffey reader days there comes a hazy sort of recollection of a poem about the captain's little daughter whose faith quelled the panic when "a storm was on the deep." It is brought to mind by the new story of a girl whose jazz tunes on the piano had the same effect as the liner Morro Castle battled an Atlantic hurricane on its way from Havana to New York.

The master of the vessel immortalized in the old reader was a salty old tar but he was ready to give up the fight in that memorable line.

"We are lost' the captain shouted

"As he staggered down the stair."

Captain Robert H. Wilmott of the Morro Castle was not in such desperate straits but he was badly worried as the ship tossed about with such fury that 70 of his passengers were reported officially as receiving injuries.

The poem proceeds

"Then his little daughter whispered

"As she took his icy hand,

"'Isn't God upon the ocean

"Just the same as on the land."

The Morro Castle had such a heroine aboard, but she used different methods. Noting that the ship's orchestra was incapacitated, she made her way to the piano and started to play "Happy Days Are Here Again" with a vigor which made the tune heard over the howling of the hurricane and the crash of the furniture with each lurch of the ship. Edward Kaltman, a salesman, stood up and sang but a wave hurled him across the room and injured him so badly that he was compelled to retire Still the girl clung to the piano and continued to play. Some of the passengers asked for hymns but Miss Gwendolyn Taylor continued to play lively jazz tunes and Captain Wilmott says in his official report that they were important in quelling panic and preserving the morale of the passengers.

Maybe Miss Taylor's tunes has nothing to do with the fact that the ship rode out the gale but the ending of the two stories is the same

"And we anchored safe in harbor

"As the sun was shining bright"

The world and especially the 340 aboard the Morro Castle hail the heroine of modern jazz whose brave fingers set tinging tunes into the teeth of a 100-mile hurricane

Highlights of Ohio History
BY J. H. GALBRAITH

AARON BURR AT CHILLICOTHE.

While Aaron Burr was engaged in making preparations for his conspiracy expedition down the Ohio he is known to have paid but one visit to Chillicothe, then capital of the state, and the best place to sound out sentiment on any political matter. This was early in December 1806. It is not known whether he actually secured an interview on this occasion with Governor Tiffin or not, but probably not for the governor had already been acquainted with the probable treasonable objects of the enterprise that Burr then had in hand.

One reason for believing that he did not see Governor Tiffin on this occasion is that he was not entertained at the governor's residence although he might have had the governor a visit at his office but was not invited to his home for entertainment because of what the governor had been advised. He did call at Adena, home of U. S. Senator Thomas Worthington and remained there as a guest several days, but the senator had left for the national capital to be present at the opening of the session of congress, or perhaps he also would have seen to it that Burr was not entertained in his home. It was shortly after the visit to Chillicothe that John Graham arrived with the information that led Governor Tiffin and the federal authority to lay plans to thwart Burr's activity.

Washington And Wall Street

BY GEORGE DURNO

WASHINGTON, Sept 21—An undercover campaign is in progress to convince newspaper, magazine and radio officials they have got to lay off for the administration's proposed new food and drug act

Word has got about of a joker in the bill which will make it possible to hold any advertising medium liable to a sock along with the sponsor of a spurious food, drug or cosmetics ad

Department of agriculture officials have studied the clause in question. They admit its language may be ambiguous but deny vehemently any deliberate intent.

Soothing syrup circulates to the effect that when congress reassembles and the bill goes into committee the offending clause will be rewritten.

In its final form all that will be required of any advertising medium is the name and address, upon request, of the person responsible for a phoney ad or broadcast.

The law is aimed solely at those who make false claims about their products and not the media through which these claims reach the public.

Health

One of the reasons the food and drug administration is so anxious to get the new bill passed is to protect people with allegeric diseases such as hay fever and asthma.

Estimates have been made sparingly that from 15 to 30 per cent of our entire population are sensitive to some food product. Peanut oil and egg content will do as examples

The proposed law would require all such information about content to be stamped on the label

Officials explain quickly they are not condemning any food product in this connection

A given salad dressing might be excellent yet its label does not state whether peanut oil or olive oil contributes to the base

Such information would guide many sufferers immeasurably in their diets

Beauty

When cosmetics were placed under the tentative laws [illegible] Uncle Sam made a gesture in a brand new field.

With the exception of those "beauty" preparations found to contain poisonous ingredients, the food and drug administration has never monkeyed with cosmetics advertising The administration plans to bring regulation of this industry to about the point where food and drug control now stands. The new act would tighten existing food and drug restrictions materially.

As one official puts it, "we must take little steps for little feet in a new field"

The Team

Early in his administration President Roosevelt tickled newspapermen by comparing his emergency recovery program to a football game with himself as the quarterback

It is looking more and more as if F. D. in addition to calling signals was going to have to carry the ball himself.

General Hugh Johnson, his line-plunging fullback, is all worn out from repeated bucks of the line. Prof. Ray Moley benched himself. Half-backs Likes of public works and Feds of agriculture administment are bound from the starts for not getting away fast enough.

The President pushed one big push down at NRA by taking over the coal situation. A tighter interlocking of all emergency relief organizations is just around the corner.

And if you know your football back look out for a delayed buck or the hidden ball trick.

Flynn

Take a close squint and you see plenty of additional signs that the senate banking committee is determined to work out a [illegible] revision of present banking and stock exchange practices [illegible] on a long-range basis.

John T. Flynn, well known financial and economic writer, has been engaged quietly as special logical adviser to the committee. When the pending investigation of banking and brokerage houses is completed it will be up to him to report on the social and economic effects of current practices on the people in general.

Flynn, it might be reported in passing, is reputed to be the author of "Mirrors of Wall Street"

Chris

Christian Heurich, Washington's venerable brewer, celebrated his ninety-first birthday the other day. He deserves congratulations for several reasons.

He attributes his longevity to lettuce and beer.

When beer returned he refused to join the mad scramble and held his product for three months until it aged properly.

When President Roosevelt was casting around in the early days of his administration for a way to relieve the wheat farmers he called old Chris in and asked whether a palatable, easily salable beverage could be made from wheat.

Chris said no.

Notes

Movie producers have been complaining that Sol R. Seidlbatt, deputy administrator of NRA in charge of the [illegible] codes, has been partial to labor. They might be interested in [illegible] reports that Rosenblatt is about to associate himself with Abner Rubien, New York counsel for movie labor organizations The dapper lads around the state department are calling Sumner Welles, American ambassador to Cuba, "Gideon." The point lies in a connection between the large number of American warships lying off Havana and the fact that Gideon Welles was secretary of the navy in the Lincoln administration. Sightseers visiting Washington really should include the food and drug administration's "chamber of horrors" on their schedule if they can persuade officials to show them through. Women particularly would be interested in the exposes of many of their pet products.

BY JAMES McMULLIN

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 The government's credit game with the banks seems to have changed from tug-of-war to tag

At least Jesse Jones' latest offer makes it look that way. When RFC offers to lend money to the banks at 3 per cent for six months or less if the banks will re-lend it promptly to worthy NRA members at 5 per cent old-timers grow red. The RFC will pass on and hold the business assets offered as collateral for such loans. There could be no simpler way of telling the banks they are "it."

It's a neat device at that. The law doesn't permit the RFC to make direct loans to industry and if they wait for congress to amend the law it may be too late. NRA members who need money need it now. So it looks as if the RFC is using the banks to hurdle the law and giving them 2 per cent for lending as middlemen. On the surface it appears to be a soft [illegible] for the banks and you might think they would leap to it.

But there's a big black African [illegible] now, Jesse! The RFC is willing to pass on the validity of the collateral offered but if anything slips and the commercial borrower [illegible] the banking [illegible] that holds the bag is the RFC. That leaves the banks on to where they were in the depression. [illegible] literally to [illegible] deposits [illegible] are pouring. As the banks believe it will take most NRA firms with a bank borrow to meet added costs in the next six months to turn at a [illegible]

So the answer at least as far as N. R. A. loans are concerned is still "No." Some of the [illegible] authorities believe that smaller banks the country will be in opposition to this idea than they were in the [illegible] stock exposure, and it may be something [illegible] Chamber of Commerce [illegible] government [illegible] that once the banks start [illegible] up on credit—even with RFC money—they will find it hard to be so [illegible]

Meanwhile the New York banks really have had a greatly increased demand for credit from what they call desirable customers. Loans on other than security collateral have crept up $370,000,000 in this district in the last two weeks. If this trend continues the banks are in hopes the government will ease down on its restrictions.

Insurance

A New York expert has doped it out that if the deposit insurance had been in effect for the last 10 years the banks would have been penalized on an average of about ¼ of one per cent on their deposits per year. At the same time they would have been saved the cost of demand deposits averaging about one per cent per year. It doesn't look like such a bad swap from that angle.

Earnings

In spite of restrictions on credit New York banks and trust companies are not doing so badly in the matter of making money for themselves. Earnings for the third quarter will be better than they were for two previous quarters. This is partly due to the abolition of interest on demand accounts and partly to recoveries of doubtful assets because of higher security prices.

Stats

Giannini's [illegible] as director of the National City Bank was forecast in this column some months ago. It was logical, because Giannini's Transamerica is probably the largest single holder of National City stock. It is understood here that Neylan, the other new director and attorney for William Randolph Hearst, was also named at Giannini's request. A private arrangement is said to exist whereby Giannini is entitled to a total of three seats on the board.

"Unwanted"

To hear the British yell about "unwanted" American deposits in London banks you might think that half of Wall Street had taken to exporting capital to Britain for hoarding purposes. That isn't the case. It is true that American funds in London have recently flown rapidly but they were sent over there in order to speculate in currencies within the restrictions existing here. They are slated to return home when the speculative spree is over. So you can hardly blame the British for not wanting this kind of money around subject to immediate withdrawal.

Outlook

A [illegible] Wall Street economist whose confidential reports are [illegible] to [illegible] of their [illegible] month summarizes his latest analysis as follows.

Commodities: Looking consumers [illegible] up to [illegible] goods at current prices, rising tendency from now on. Industrial production: Current reports conflicting; increased output will proceed at [illegible] rate than last three months. Business profits: Improvement in [illegible] but low purchasing power will mean [illegible] for fall upturn. Stock market: Attractive for long pull investment; prices on inflation [illegible] the entire [illegible] higher consumer expenditures seem due to check [illegible] by [illegible]

Angel

The government is trying to find a way to play [illegible] to the heavy [illegible] of which Bob New [illegible] reigns were [illegible]. The railroads have [illegible] applications to [illegible] money for equipment and if they get it they think there is still a depression.

The answer is likely to be a new corporation with a large amount of money at its disposal which will buy railroad equipment and then rent it to the railroads. The employment [illegible] in the heavy industries is a keystone in recovery plans

Will We Be Paid?

Poor old Uncle Sam seems to have been born a victim of misplaced confidence.

People were starving in China and people there were naked. Uncle Sam had millions of bushels of wheat, unlimited bales of cotton, and he didn't know what to do with either. So he let them have $50,000,000 worth of wheat and cotton, saying "Pay me later."

Now he discovers that China is selling the cotton to Japan at marked-down prices, without first having paid for it.

Will Uncle Sam get paid for that cotton?

Will he get paid by the European nations to whom he lent two thousand millions when their hands were against the wall?

Homemaker's Question Box

Question—I have an old sideboard which I do not want to use as it is. What can I do with it?

Answer—Many sideboards are unattractive because of the great amount of decoration on them. Such a piece of furniture can be improved by removing the fussy, useless trimming which is usually on the drawers and top. The mirror and top shelf can often be taken off and the board above the mirror placed at the back of the top of the sideboard. The wood may be refinished to give smooth, dull surface. The sideboard will be as useful as before but more beautiful in the modern dining room.

If more cupboard space is necessary in the bathroom or bedroom the sideboard may be used there. However, the same changes should be made as described above. It may also serve as a dressing unit in the bathroom. The legs of the sideboard can be removed, placing it directly on the floor. The mirror can be hung at the back and directly above the piece of furniture. (Answered by Clothing Specialist of the Ohio Agricultural Extension Service).

DANGEROUS FAT GONE--50 POUNDS IN 5 MONTHS

She Feels Years Younger

"I was very discouraged after having pneumonia which left me with severe arthritis. I read about Kruschen Salts and am now on my 5th jar. Have reduced 50 lbs. of fat in 5 months and feel 15 years younger. Arthritis never bothers me. Everyone tells me how good I look, even my doctor." Mrs. Margarete Brinkle, Buffalo, N. Y.

A half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts every morning in a glass of hot or cold water is an especially effective treatment because it not only reduces double chins, bulging waistline, fat ankles and hips steadily, safely and without leaving skin wrinkled but it builds up splendid physical fitness. It increases charm and attractiveness as reflected in clear skin, bright eyes and added vivaciousness.

Just take this healthful little daily dose of Kruschen FAITHFULLY—as dangerous, excess fat vanishes, observe the pleasing evidence of new strength, increased mental and physical ability, more endurance, freer breathing, freedom from headaches, drowsiness, acidity, indigestion and blemishes.

With an inexpensive jar of Kruschen (lasts 4 weeks) you have EVERYTHING TO GAIN and NOTHING TO LOSE because money back from Henney & Cooper or any druggist the world over if not fully satisfied, but be sure and get KRUSCHEN and get slender. Adv.

"T... Williams had been
...at that blue hands-
...sea and thinking that it was just the day for a dip. He hadn't had a proper swim this year, what with the weather and Nesta's affairs. That bit of blue water was just about right.

"Tom!"

He turned with a start. Nesta had the door of the car open. She was very much flushed, and her eyes were bright and hard.

"We're taking him back with us," she said.

"Then it's Jimmy?"

Nesta frowned and went on speaking in a hurried jerky voice.

"Of course it's Jimmy. We're taking him back with us and you'll have to drive right in because he's pretty dicky. They wouldn't let me take him away, only there's been a bus smash at the cross-roads and the doctor's just rung up to say they've got to take in six whether they've got room for them or not."

"What's the matter with him?" said Tom Williams.

"Crack on the head. Now look here, Tom—I've had to fight to get him away. If it hadn't been for this bus business, I wouldn't have got him. Even as it is, they wouldn't have let him come if they'd known it was the best part of sixty miles, so I've told them we've come from Marley."

"Marley?" said Tom. "Why Marley?"

"Because I remembered the name and it's only about eight miles from here and don't start asking questions or I shall scream."

She stepped back from the car, but kept her hand upon it. Tom Williams looked at her curiously. The flush which had covered her face had now drawn together into a brilliant patch high up on either cheek, leaving the rest of the skin white and wet.

"What is it?" he said. "What's the matter?"

THAT something was the matter was very certain. Nesta didn't look like that for nothing. Not for the first time, he felt as if her affairs were a sort of trap in which he was caught and from which he had no hope of ever getting free.

If it wasn't for Nesta's affairs, he and Min might be as happy as the day was long. Yet for the life of him he couldn't keep out of Nesta's affairs. What had been happening to make her look like that?

He felt a horrid pang of apprehension and his voice rose.

"Nesta, what's the matter?"

Nesta Riddell's face tightened on the side of the car. Just for a moment she had felt as if she were going to faint.

"It's a nice thing that would ... she said to herself furiously.

Nesta

She straightened up, leaning on the car, and said in a voice low as a whisper but much harder:

"He's talking about the Van Berg affair."

Tom Williams felt as someone had hit him in the face with a wet towel. His jaw dropped and his eyes bolted.

"What?" he stammered.

Nesta's color became the normal color of an angry woman.

"Be quiet, you fool!"

"The Van Berg—"

"Will you be quiet!"

"But why?" said Tom Williams. "I mean why—I mean—"

Nesta jumped into the car, sat down, and held him by the arm.

"Because he's out of his head. Now shut your mouth and listen to me, because I'm not going to say it twice! I went in, and I'd hardly got in when the nurse was called to the telephone about this bus affair.

"She left me alone with him, and there he was, muttering to himself like she said he'd been going all along. All they'd been able to make out was 'Jimmy Riddell' and we may thank the Lord for that. He kept on saying it, but whilst I was there he said a pack of other things too, and my lord, what things!"

Tom shifted away from her, moving round so that he could see her face. A chill of foreboding ran up his spine.

"What sort of things?" he said uneasily.

Nesta slipped her arm through his and brought her mouth close to his ear.

"He was talking about the emeralds."

To Be Continued.

Given in Marriage

BY ADELE GARRISON

Madge's father made happy by a message of forgiveness from her mother.

I HAD THE queerest, most eerie feeling as I heard my father's footsteps coming back from the living room, where I had sent him to read the letter from my long dead mother—the letter to him which I had found in the secret recess of her old japanned box.

It seemed to my excited imagination that there were other footsteps accompanying his faint, phantom footsteps, keeping close to him. I never have believed very strongly in the theory that the dead return even in spirit to the vicinity of those they have loved most in life, but I found myself thrilling, trembling with the impulse to cry out, 'Oh Mother! Mother! Come close to me!'

It was not my moment, however. I realized that. Even if my imaginings had their root in reality, it was not to me that those light, phantom footsteps were coming. If there were any message from the other world trembling upon the midnight air, it was not to me directed but to my father.

When my father had come almost up to me he stopped and turned his head as if he, too, were listening. As he turned back to me his eyes were shining, and I saw that his lips were tremulous.

"I have the most wonderful feeling," he said huskily, "that your mother is very near to us."

I did not tell him that I felt it also. This was the greatest moment that had come to him since he found me, after so many years when he did not know whether I was alive or dead, and I knew that my cue was silence, together with alertness to sense whatever mood was his, and respond to it.

But his next words surprised me so that I could hardly keep from betraying my astonishment.

A Secret Message

"You were wrong, after all, about this letter being for me alone," he said. "Your mother says in it that, should conditions arise in your life which seem to me good reason for such a step, I am to give you a certain part of it to read."

My mind went swiftly back to another box of my mothers, which she had left to me at the time of her death, a box containing many mementoes of our life together, some of which I have since entrusted to my father for safe keeping.

In that box addressed to me, was a letter in an envelope that bore the injunction that I was not to open it unless I were married and my marriage seemed certain to end in disaster.

I never have opened that letter even in the most stressful moments of my marriage with Dicky.

I became conscious that my father was looking down at me tenderly, yet with a certain doubt behind the softness.

"Thank heaven," he said, "there is no apparent reason for reading you that part of this letter. I trust that there will never be reason for you to hear it."

Was the doubt in his voice stronger now? I had not had time to decide when he hurried on.

"I need not tell you," he said, his voice still husky, "that this has been a most wonderful experience for me. I knew that your mother had forgiven me. Her injunction to you when she was on her death bed proved that.

"Yet I have gone all these years with the conviction that I had killed every bit of her love for me; that the forgiveness which made her send you to me was a feeling prompted by duty. But this letter, this ring, of which I shall tell you presently, give me the certainty, more precious to me than anything else in the world, that her love for me never died, even though bitterness covered it for so many years." Daily Guide to Health

BY DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND.

Tuberculosis of Kidney.

Alarm and anxiety about disease are usually quite unnecessary. But to be told you have tuberculosis of the kidney is certain to cause a shock. It is a discouraging bit of news.

The sufferer is apt to believe he has an incurable disease and that he will be the victim of a sudden and early death. But, as a matter of fact, early recognition of tuberculosis of the kidney means that the sufferer will not be the victim of such a fate. When it is definitely known that the kidney is diseased, infected from the germs of tuberculosis the diseased organ can be removed by a comparatively simple operation.

It is only when tuberculosis of the kidney is not suspected and the disease is allowed to exist for some time that the outcome is unfavorable. In such instances, the general health of the patient suffers and it is probable that the other kidney may become involved. Tuberculosis of both kidneys is indeed a serious experience.

How can we guard against this danger?

Many minor disturbances of the kidney are falsely referred to as "lumbago" or "backache," and too often neglected. Vague and often significant pain of the kidney may be an early sign of tuberculosis of the kidney.

This is especially true when there is tuberculosis in the family or a story of long continued ill health. The presence of blood in the urine should always arouse suspicion of this trouble. Burning and discomfort on urination, frequent urination; and cloudy urine are other signs that must never be overlooked.

A problem that arises in tuberculosis of the kidney is the question of when the operation should be performed. The patient often delays matters in the hope that the condition may clear itself. Unfortunately this is a false and unfounded hope.

All authorities agree that once the kidney is involved and definite signs of tuberculous infection are present, surgery must be resorted to as soon as possible. Delay is dangerous.

With the perfection of modern instruments, special apparatus and particularly the improvement of the modern X-ray machine, it is now possible to detect tuberculosis of the kidney in its early stages. If you suffer from pain or discomfort of the kidneys, regardless of how mild it may seem to you, it is a good plan to consult with your physician. Do not assume that the pain is due to a cold but allow your physician to determine certain examinations and X-ray pictures that will reveal the truth.

I am glad to say that a study of recent statistics shows that tuberculosis of the kidney need no longer be regarded as a fatal disease. As a result of early and prompt operation the average span of life of the sufferer has been increased to such an extent that it is often greater than that of the supposedly healthy person.

Bear in mind that removal of one kidney does not interfere with the function of the opposite kidney. The body is able to maintain its normal activities in spite of surgery.

VETERINARIANS PLAN FOUR-COUNTY GROUP
Proposal Advanced at Meeting Here; Future Sessions Considered.

A four-county association of veterinarians will be formed here in the near future, plans discussed at a meeting of Marion county's 10 veterinarians in Hotel Harding last night, it was announced.

Veterinarians of Morrow, Delaware, Crawford and Marion counties will be invited to attend a meeting here in the near future to organize and arrange for monthly meetings, Dr. C. A. Appel, president of the Ohio Veterinary Medical association who aided the meeting last night said.

It was stated that it is felt that members of a district group would benefit from periodical discussions of problems common to veterinarians.

STOCKS, BONDS MOVE LOWER
Sharp Liquidation Continues; Show Losses of 1 to 3 Points.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 21—Security market sales were again overcast ... and only an occasional ray ... of optimistic sunshine broke ... the lowering blade clouds.

A continuation of yesterday's sharp liquidation lapped over into the early hours and prices of both stocks and bonds broke 1 to 3 or more points before some moderate support stemmed the tide. As in the previous session, the activity expanded on the downswing and slowed down perceptibly on the rallies. Grains and cotton gave no encouragement to equities, both categories showing renewed weakness. Other commodities were rather heavy. The dollar at the same time, recovered in foreign exchange dealings.

A number of leading shares got back part of their morning's losses. Some of the more depressed utility stocks displayed resistance notably Consolidated Gas and Public Service of New Jersey, which moved up a point or more each. American Telephone just about held its own. The rails were heavy in most of the time declines of 1 to 2 or more being registered by Union Pacific, New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio and Santa Fe. The metals retrieved some of their lost ground. Among losers of fractions to around a point or more were American Can, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Western Union, Chrysler, Case, General Motors, National Distillers and Industrial Alcohol.

One reason for the recent eccentric gyrations of security prices, in the opinion of Wall Street, is the extremely low level to which the short interest has fallen. Higher taxes and margin requirements, the stringent regulations on pool operations and general uncertainties regarding the government's fiscal program have thinned the ranks of bear traders to such an extent that sizeable short transactions are rare. Brokers claim that a substantial short position is necessary to cushion and stabilize any declining movement. Without this covering support, it is contended, stocks are quickly unsettled by even moderate liquidation.

SOCIAL SESSION HELD BY EAGLES
A social hour and smoker followed the business session at the meeting of Buckeye Aerie No. 337, Fraternal Order of Eagles, last night in the Eagles hall. Members from the Eagles band, costumed as an old-fashioned German band, surprised the lodge during the social hour with a concert.

John Abel, chairman of the charity benefit committee, reported activities in this line would not be taken up until the latter part of October.

Amateur Golfers To Fight for Marion County Title

36 HOLES OF MEDAL PLAY SCHEDULED AT MAR-O-DEL SUNDAY

Permanent Trophy Goes To Winner; 1932 Champ Not To Play.

Mar-O-Del's annual golf classic the Marion county amateur will be played on the local course Sunday.

At least 25 golfers are expected to take part in the 36 holes of medal play. All amateurs of the country are eligible to take part. The entry fee is $1, which covers the greens fee.

The first player will tee off at 8:30 a. m. playing 18 holes in the morning. The second round will be played in the afternoon starting at 1:30.

A permanent trophy will be awarded by the management of the course to the winner.

Last year's champion, Grant Hanawalt, will not be eligible to compete in the tournament. Since winning the title he has moved.

Cliff Rowley, who won the honors in the first amateur tournament conducted two years ago, probably will be back again seeking new laurels.

One of the closing events of the season will be the exhibition match to be given Oct. 1 by Ralph K. Edling, one-armed professional of Daytona Beach, Fla. He will play William Klauss, Mar-O-Del champion, and K. M. Bower, title-holder of the Country club. Efforts are being made to obtain Bob Kepler of Dayton to complete the foursome.

Champion Giants Return Home To Be Greeted by Dazed Crowd

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 21—The champion New York Giants came back to their own battle ground today to receive the belated roar of the metropolitan crowd, still somewhat dazed by this season's rapid decline of the once-dominant Yankees and the equally startling rise of Bill Terry's lads.

It's an old saying that New York or any place else loves a winner. Win or lose under the old regime of John McGraw, the Giants always were the best drawing card in the National league, but it wasn't until the 1933 club hit the home stretch, lengths in front, that the crowds began to drift toward Coogan's bluff.

They were frankly derisive in the spring when the Giants got away galloping. They were still skeptical in mid-summer when it became apparent the team was in the thick of the fight to stay.

Even the so-called "experts" are convinced now that Bill Terry won't let them forget the harsh things they said and the abrupt way they relegated the reconstructed Giants to the second division last April.

Only one out of 82 baseball writers, polled last spring, was rash enough to predict the Giants would win the pennant.

The consensus was that the Giants would wind up sixth with the Pirates as pennant-winner and that the Senators would finish second.

The consensus now appears to be that even if they did upset all this National league dope the Giants can't beat the Senators, but their answer today was "why not?"

2 MATCHES PLAYED IN Y.M.C.A. TOURNEY

Two tennis matches in the Y. M. C. A. city tournament were played yesterday afternoon. Both were in the women's singles division with Marjorie Carliss defeating Mildred Hollenshead 4-6, 6-4 and 6-1 and Louise Baker losing to Ruth Starr 2-6 and 2-6.

FANS KEPT GUESSING ON IRISH BACKFIELD

Anderson Keeps Shifting Notre Dame Backs in Practice.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 21—One guess is as good as another right now when fans and critics get together to discuss which four young men will compose Notre Dame's 1933 first string backfield.

Coach Hunk Anderson has been moving and shifting his backfield candidates faster than a chess expert moves pawns and so often that Irish football fans are much confused. But they are loyally predicting that when Anderson finishes he will have a combination good enough to start the Notre Dame machine rolling along its far-flung schedule and have a reserve group equally as powerful to back it up.

Hunk lost all his quarterbacks from last year, but he may have another Carideo in Tony Mazziotti, a sophomore from White Plains, N. Y., who has been somewhat of a sensation in training. Others after the quarterback position are Wall Fromhart and Frank Gaul.

Three veterans, Nick Lukats, Ray Brancheau and Johnny Tobin, are fighting hard to keep the halfback positions from two star sophomores, Andy Pilney and Mike Leyden. Yesterday Anderson switched Don Elser, a sophomore, to first team fullback and placed the veteran Steve Banas on the second. While Anderson needs Mazziotti on the first team, there is a possibility of keeping the four sophomores intact. If this move is made he will use either Fromhart or Gaul at quarter, Lukats at left half, Brancheau or Tobin at right half, and Banas at the full on the first team.

FIRST OHIO COLLEGE GAMES ARE SLATED FOR THIS WEEK-END

Few Teams To See Action As Coaches Start Final Drive.

The football season, passing, plunging and punting on Ohio college football fields today began to take on some of the snap and precision of regular game technique as a few of the squads prepared for their opening games this week-end.

Xavier university at Cincinnati probably will send a veteran backfield against Transylvania college Friday night in its opening game. Tommy Brannen at quarter, George Elder and Kenny Jordan at half, and Hal Pennington at fullback appeared to have the starting call cinched for the contest against the Kentuckians.

Alfred Holbrook college's squad held its final scrimmage sessions yesterday in preparation for its first game with Ashland Friday night. Behind a line averaging 165 pounds, the starting backfield for the new school probably will consist of Hatfield at quarter, Dutcher and Crager at half and Hammond at full.

B-W Has Veterans

The Yellow Jacket squad of Baldwin-Wallace will have a starting line-up of 10 veterans and one sophomore for its game at Berea Saturday with Bluffton. The new man is Harold Sternglanz, a guard. Skippy Wing will be directing the Yellow Jackets from the quarterback position. Marietta travels to Alliance to meet Mt. Union in the only other Ohio game Saturday.

The University of Cincinnati acquired two new backfield possibilities yesterday. Mike Cecardo, a sophomore is a left-handed passer capable of filling in at quarter or half. Elmer Von Horn, a junior, is expected to make a strong bid for the fullback berth.

Coach George Gauthier of Ohio Wesleyan shifted his players about in an attempt to find a fullback, trying out two end candidates, Floyd Kennow of Columbus and Art Belt of Baltimore. A regulation game on the practice field between varsity squads of Bishop candidates was on today's schedule.

Ohio Northern university's first heavy scrimmage program resulted in an injury to a regular guard, Gerald Fling, whose nose was broken.

The Buckeye State's Western conference team, Ohio State, went through a scrimmage session in which sophomores held the tentative varsity eleven scoreless for three periods. Tommy Keese broke loose and scored a touchdown for the sophs on a 25-yard run.

Wittenberg in Scrimmage

Wittenberg's varsity backs romped through an hour's scrimmage against the freshmen without being slowed down by the first year men.

Capital university gridders held a long aerial drill and then swung into a scrimmage which featured the passing attack.

Coach Stu Holcomb sent his Findlay college team through an assortment of drills and decided they were making a good showing.

A two-hour skull practice for Kent State candidates followed their drill in pass defense and blocking.

At the same time Athletic Director W. E. Steller named Fred Marsh, All-Northwest lineman in 1930, to the freshman coaching job, at Bowling Green, two unexpected candidates turned up. They are Paul Schwartz of Fremont and Carl Stephenson of Oakwood, veteran tackles.

Ohio university's squad developed an epidemic of "butterfingers" which kept coaches worried.

The Cardinals at Otterbein started their second week of practice with a line averaging about 190 pounds and a backfield averaging about 175.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21—Harry Dublinsky of Chicago, ranked ninth in the National Boxing association lightweight ratings, has challenged champion Barney Ross to a lightweight or junior welterweight title bout.

In the Series

This is the third of a series of personality sketches on individual stars of the New York Giants and Washington Senators, world series rivals.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 21—Melvin Ott, slugging right fielder of the Giants, is the youngest veteran in the major leagues. At 24 he is a seasoned campaigner, winding up his ninth year in the big show.

Ott, then a schoolboy catcher at Gretna, La., was only 15 when a friend of John McGraw saw him slugging baseballs all over the Louisiana landscape. He bought Mel a ticket for New York and wired McGraw the lad was on his way.

From the moment he walked into the Polo Grounds, Ott has never called another baseball park home. He spent that season, 1925, just sitting on the bench and looking around. The next year he played 35 games in the outfield; the next, 82. At the ripe old age of 19 he became a regular, and he's been right there ever since.

Ott is one of baseball's most consistent and timely hitters. His average never has fallen below .300. In 1930 he slugged at a .349 clip and was runner-up for National league homerun honors. For the last two seasons he has been second only to Chuck Klein of the Phillies in runs batted in, though many league rivals had higher batting averages.

MEL OTT

Washington pitchers will find him a tough man to handle in the world series pinches, and the first baserunner who takes liberties with Ott's throwing arm will think he has been cut down by rifle fire.

WASHINGTON MOVES ONE GAME NEARER AMERICAN PENNANT

Yankees Continue To Keep in Striking Range by Defeating Chicago.

By The Associated Press

Delayed by a belated rally, New York Yankees and their own failure to win a few games from the last place Browns, the Washington Senators were still waiting at the pennant-land today.

The Senators were only [illegible] away from a mathematical [illegible] ty after snapping their [illegible] spell with a 13 to 5 triumph the Browns yesterday. They clinch the flag with another [illegible] umph over St. Louis or by [illegible] any one of the next six contests.

Once they were counted the race in actual if not mathematical terms, the Yanks eased their efforts and promptly began play better ball. When they defeated the Chicago White Sox 5-3 count yesterday, it was their thirteenth victory against two defeats and a tie in their last 15 games.

The triumphs of the two contenders left the Yankees a mathematical chance of taking the lead, but only if they win all the remaining games they have left and the Senators lose seven straight. This would put them in a virtual tie for the finish with the Yankees having fewer games, a point about

Leave Homes in Belleville; Thought To Be Hiking To Indiana.

Two letters were received today by the Marion police department asking aid in two searches, one for two missing girls from Belleville, O., and the other for a lost police dog.

The two girls, Helen Miller, 15, and Jean Shaffer, 13, left their homes in Bellville, south of Mansfield, Monday noon, police were told, and are thought to be hitchhiking to Decatur, Ind., where Miss Shaffer has relatives.

Both girls were wearing pink dresses when last seen, the letter said, and were without coats. Miss Miller is five feet four inch tall and Miss Shaffer is about five feet, the letter, from the latter's sister, Mrs. Hattie Hascher, said.

The lost dog, "Fanny," disappeared while her owner, C. O. Hart of Flint, Mich., was visiting the Marion cemetery and Harding memorial here.
